

ENRIQUE G. KOENIG, J.D.

PROFILE

I am well versed in both Spanish and English. I was born in México City, México. As a result I have considerable understanding of the Latin American Culture. My undergraduate studies were focused in Business Administration, and I have also attained a J.D. Degree. I have had experience as a Co-Owner/Share-holder and participant in a Petrochemical Co. located in México City, mainly focused in the production of cosmetics, beauty products and flavorings for consumables. My main area of involvement was marketing and promotion. Also, I have worked in the investment field, the Agricultural and feed additive sales field, and Real Estate Management field. I am also involved as Co-Trustee and President of a non-profit Foundation. Since the year of 2009 I began a quest to develop my conflict resolution skills which flourished to being inducted into The Civil Mediation Volunteer Panel for the Los Angeles Superior Court, and also become an active member of the Party-Pay Panel for the Superior Court. I served the Superior Court ADR Department until its closure on June 30th, 2013. Serving at The Superior Court provided considerable exposure to various civil litigation matters that had been referred to mediation. My main areas of concentration ranged in the areas of personal injury, work-related injury, civil harassment and family divorce mediation.

I have also most recently established a private practice specifically in the area of mediation in the greater Los Angeles area specializing in commercial transactions and resolution of civil disputes. My main objective is to provide mediation services that focus on establishing a personalized professional atmosphere where the flow of information is encouraged and facilitated. My goal is also to have all participants gain greater information about each other, and develop a more in-depth understanding of each others needs and interests that will lead to better informed decision-making. And apply a more strategic approach to improve the chances of reaching a mutually acceptable agreement, and reach a successful resolution of their dispute.
